Lind Community Garden

John Claypool, Lind, met with the Board to discuss the Lind Community Garden with a request of county funding to assist in the development of an aquaponics garden. Economic Development Director McFadden was present and advised Mr. Claypool to begin the process of obtaining non-profit status for the community garden in order to obtain charitable funding from organizations. Should Mr. Claypool obtain a non-profit status for the Lind Community Garden and show that his venture will create jobs in Adams County, the organization will be eligible to apply for Adams County Economic Development funds.
